PLANS LECTURE SERIES ON EXTENSION OF TRADE

gram of Y. M. C. A.

"Promotion and Financing of For-Edward E. Pratt, chief of the bureau the first of a series of free lectures to evening.

under the direction of Wilbur J. Carr, director of the consular service, has the following speakers, topics and dates: Secretary Redfield of the Department of Commerce, subject to be announced, March 8: Charles.S. Donaldson, chief of the division of consular reports, Department of Commerce, "Foreign Comthe division of consular reports, Department of Commerce, "Foreign Commercial conditions and Opportunities," March 12: C. A. Aspinwall, vice president Security Storage Company, "Foreign Shipping and Marine Insurance," March 17: Dr. Frank R. Rutter, assistant chief bureau of foreign Tariffs," March 24: Robert F. Rose, foreign trade adviser, Department of State. "Department of State and Foreign Trade." March 31: Daniel C. Roper, first assistant postmaster general, "Influence of the United States Post Office Service on Foreign Trade," April 7, and Dr. H. Parker Willis, secretary of the federal reserve board, "Foreign Trade and American Banaing," April 14.

The reason given for the arranging for the lectures is that "in this day of changing trade routes, and unprecedented opportunities for foreign trade expansion, no one questions the advisability of a careful study of the field and the vilue of preparation for the opportunities which will come to trained men. The question is, who is able to guide such a preparation and where may their advice be had?"

WEATHER.

Fair Today; Monday Cloudy; Fresh Northerly Winds.

For the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia, fair today, Monday cloudy; fresh northerly winds.

The southwestern disturbance was central Saturday night over southern Texas, and apparently moving eastward. This disturbance has lost much of its intensity, but it is causing general rains in the gulf states, Arkansas and Oklahoma, and snow in the middle plains states and the middle Rocky mountain region. Snow has also fallen over the lower lake region, and there have been rains in the Pacific states, except southern California. High pressure which covers much of the country southwestern disturbance was except southern California. High pressure which covers much of the country east of the Rocky mountains and has its crest over Lake Superior is attended by comparatively cold weather over the northern and eastern states and the great central valleys.

There will be rain Sunday and probably Monday in the gulf and south Atlantic states, Arkansas and Tennessee, and probably snow Sunday in the southern plains states and the middle Mississippi and lower Ohio valleys. In all other parts of the country the weather will be generally fair Sunday and Monday.

The temperature will fall Sunday in the west gulf states, and it will change little elsewhere during the next fortyeight hours.

Along the north Atlantic coast there will be fresh northwest gales; on the will be fresh northwest gales; on the middle Atlantic coast strong northwest winds; on the south Atlantic coast moderate variable winds; on the east gulf coast moderate east and southeast winds; on the west gulf coast moderate variable winds, becoming fresh north; on the upper lakes moderate to fresh north and northeast winds; on the lower lakes moderate to fresh northeast moderate to fresh northerly winds.
